Not so much a password generator, but a utility that can be utilized to 'crack' serial numbers Available for both mobile and desktop, the free app is available for Windows and macOS The app is free to use, but the developer does offer optional upgrades such as extended functionality The app isn't available for all operating systems, but if you can get by with it, it works well Though the developer notes that while the tool is useful, it can't actually crack serial numbers, the app works well for generating random passwords Weighing just under 7MB, the free app is well under the 10MB limit, which is nice The app is available for free download at this link: Freeware Product Details Name: FW Password Generator Price: Free Windows OS: Windows 7 and above (Win32) macOS OS: macOS 10.8 and above (X32 and X64) Need: No Developer: Mike Vits User Review Summary Despite the app's name, it's not really a password generator, but rather a tool that can be utilized to 'crack' serial numbers. However, it's more than just a serial-number-cracker; the app supports on-the-fly modification of serial numbers, and, while there are some limitations, it's a worthwhile app, nonetheless. The software is free, but it's not quite a free download, as it's actually more of a donation. The game is now 'pay to play,' although the user can perform some paid upgrades that will allow them to generate additional passwords. However, for those who wish to give it a go, there are no additional license fees. As noted, the app is actually more of a serial-number cracker, as it can be used to tweak serial numbers so that they are no longer valid. If the default serial-number cracking is performed, the results include the number of digit, the first letter, the second letter, the third letter, and the last letter, which are all displayed on the right-hand side of the app. It's definitely an enjoyable experience, but is limited in terms of its usefulness for the average user. The developer is also offering a couple of more 'advanced' upgrades for $

Q: Pandas DataFrame.sort is silently ignoring repeated columns In pandas DataFrame.sort has the following signature: `sort(self, cols, descending=False, inplace=False, ascending=False, side='right', numeric=True, kind='mergesort', na_action=None, ascending_=False, numeric_=True)` Where self is the dataframe, and cols is a 1-D list or sequence of column numbers. Why is it silently working with some columns and not with others? For example, `df = pd.DataFrame([np.random.randint(100,size=200), np.random.randint(100,size=200)])` `df.columns = ['Name1','Name2']` `df.Name1.head()` results in: Name1 34 37 41 34 48 75 49 71 Name2 49 65 53 18 62 22 63 58 Name1 82 80 87 24 Name2 83 17 88 61 Name1 87 30 89 42 Name2 77 79 90 41 Name1 92 23 95 39
